THE CORNERSTONE

The Cornerstone...
It's a symbol of what MSD students are...
It stands tall and strong,
Just like we do.

The brick that adorn it represent our strength,
The lampposts that light it show our energy,
It's stately structure symbolizes our history and our pride
The arches and design show our brilliance...

The Cornerstone's seen it all,
From elementary school student with nervous faces,
Holding their parents' hands, starting school for the first time,
To High School graduates wearing expression of exhilaration and pride,
Holding their diplomas and graduation caps...

Yes, the Cornerstone is a symbol of what we are,
But We make the Cornerstone shine...
Being Honor students, great leaders or excellent athletes,
Whatever we do, the Cornerstone gleams with pride...

Although we don't think of the Cornerstone much,
We pass it everyday, without the blink of eye...
It's a symbol of who and what we are,
Tall and strong, we stand, It's who and what we are...

Fire fighters wet down the roofs of the other buildings after vainly attempting to douse the flames destroying the barn.

Smoke and flames rise in the background over spectators and a firefighters.

BARN FIRE

A steady stream of water keeps flames from licking at the masonry building.

Our beloved old Red Barn, a familiar sight for many MSD students for so long, burned down on Saturday, August 26, 1994, in a dramatic sight for all to see. This unfortunate incident happened one day before MSD opened its doors to students and staff.

Football campers were the witnesses of a mighty bolt of lightening that hit the barn and started the fire! The bursts of fire were only helped by the stacks of hay in the barn. The fire blazed for three days straight. Other people, driving on the freeway and living in town, could see the fire clearly.

Staff and other spectators gathered around the blazes on Sunday, August 27, 1994, to pay tribute to the mighty barn, which stood since the late 1800's. MSD used the barn to store most of its relics.

As the barn had been there for so long, this tragedy was also met with some relief from MSD staff. Residential educators had one less place to check for kids who, without permission, explored the barn. Administrators had one less fire hazard to worry. None the less, we miss our barn.

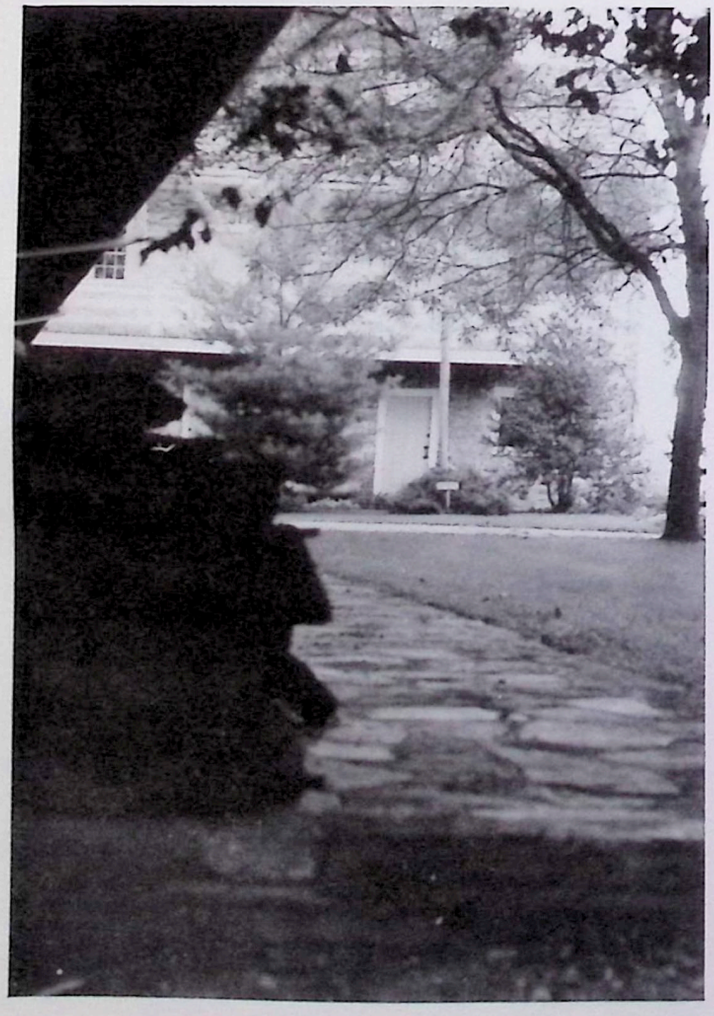
Locals gathered as flames rapidly consumed what used to be our old barn.

The yearbook staff is grateful to Linda S. Coleman for providing the picture on these pages.

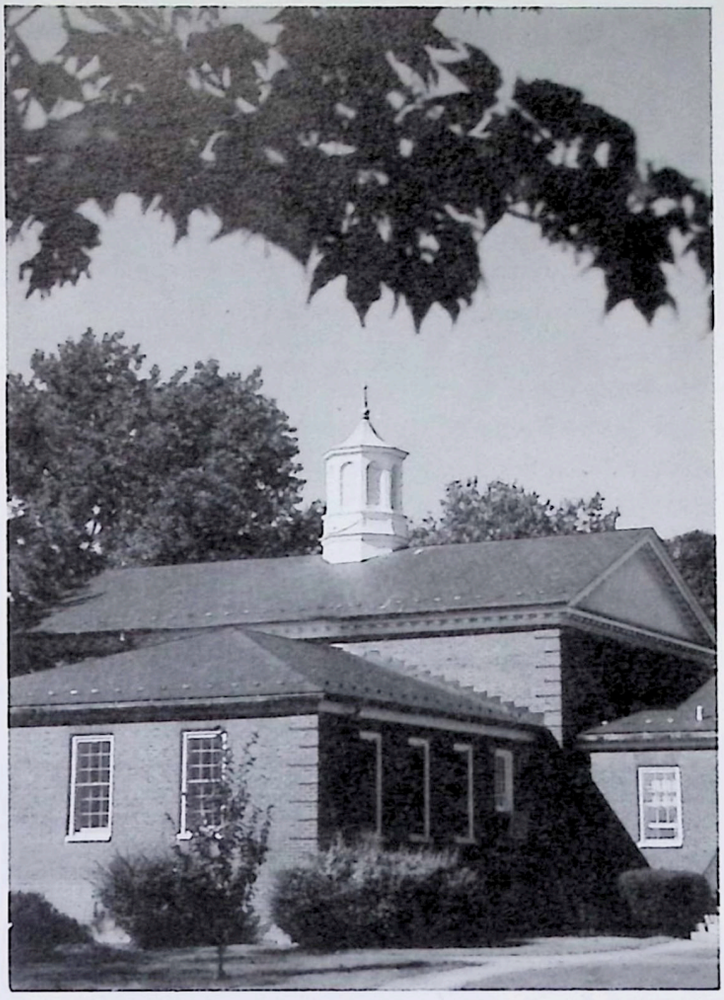
Our gazebo, which was built by our woodworking students, is a scaled-down version of the cupolas formerly atop the Old Main Building.

Glancing around the side of the historic Hessian Barracks, we see the beautiful trees and flowers.

Willam Barry was instramental in the founding of MSD. This statue, built more than 50 years ago, shows our appreciation for his work.



History



As you look at the Bjorlee Library, you will see that a steeple points up into the sky.

As we remember years ago, before we were even born, MSD stood like a great iron statue for everyone to pass by and see. Those people who passed the great statue wondered what MSD would be like years from now.

Now, after 127 years, we look back and think about what life may have been like. What was it like? The beautiful residence halls and school building standing among the trees showing their elegance and beauty. Students chatting amongst themselves in their native language. Since 1777 the Hessian Barracks stood for military purposes until MSD was formed in 1868. During the Revolutionary War the Hessian Barracks held German prisoners. It was also a hospital for the Civil War. Later, the Old Main Building was built after more deaf children came to MSD.

For many years, the Old Main Building stood like a fortress. The building had to be taken down. In 1971, shortly after the tearing down of the Old Main Building, the Ely building was built along with its dormitories, and Administration building. Across the street are the Harry G. Benson gymnasium and the George William Veditz Career and Technology building.

In the past, we used to have two Hessian Barrack building; and now there is only one left. Today, we cherish the sole surviving Hessian Barracks, which is only valuable piece of history we have still. We wonder just like the people back then wondered what MSD will look like years from now. We also wonder if the Hessian Barracks will last. If not, replicas will do.

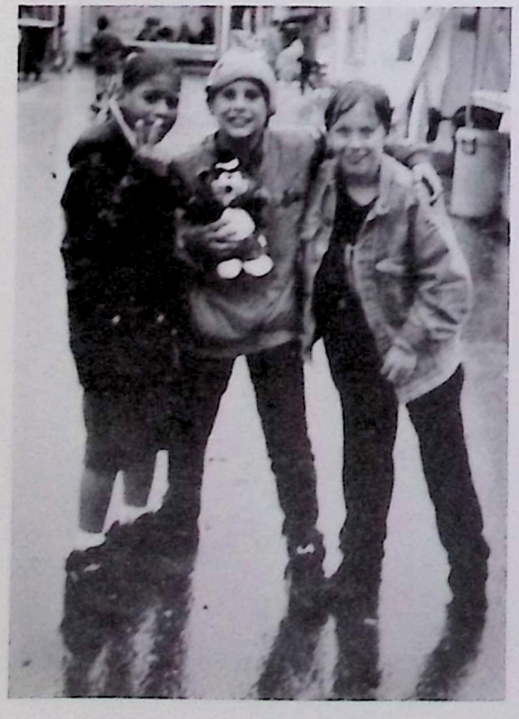
Maryland School for the Deaf's campus is colorfully decorated with flowers along with the Black-eyed Susans, the state's flower.

Fair

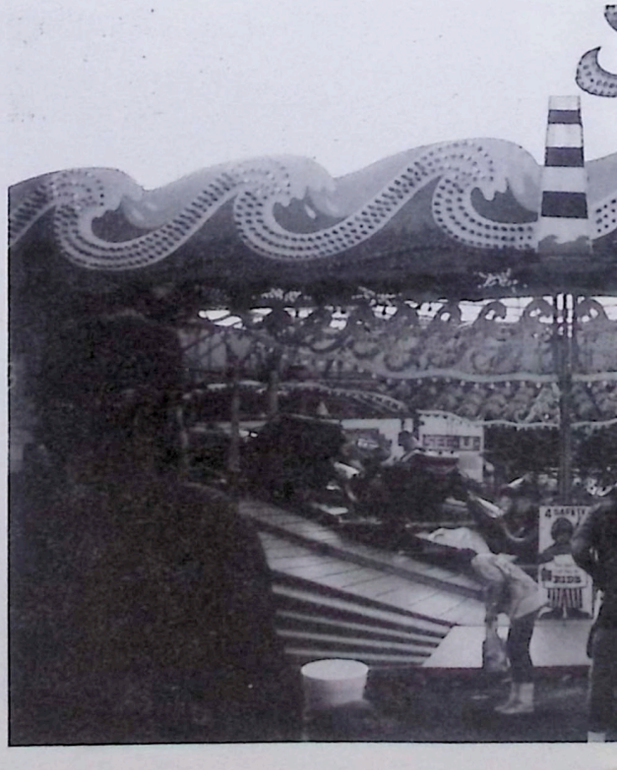
The Ferris wheel provided a relatively dry ride and a good view of all the sopping wet fair goers beneath you.

It has been an annual tradition for MSD to attend the Great Frederick Fair. Students and teachers anxiously await this day to have fun at the fair and get away from the pressures of school work. However, this year's fair day was hit by a downpour. It was chilly, dreary, and WET. It was definitely not the day we had anxiously hoped for. Still, it did not stop any of us from going.

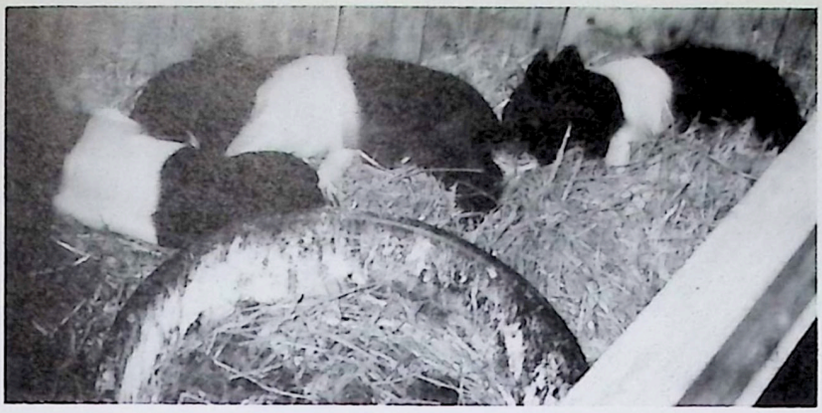
Despite the lousy weather, everyone, except for a few people, had fun. Some followed the wafting aroma of food and stopped to eat delicious fair goodies such as elephant ears, candy apples, cotton candy, pizza, and hot dogs. They sat under the tents out of the rain to eat and chat with their friends. The rain also pushed a lot of people into the Future Farmers of America and 4-H display buildings. The displays gave folks the opportunity to stay dry and to leisurely stroll in the buildings, to take in the diversified talents of Frederick countries, and to buy things at the many booths. The money that we all had been saving for a raining day was, appropriately, spent at the fair. For some students, the rain and cold did not stop them from going on the more hair-raising rides. After all, the rides are the main reason that the students look forward to the fair. Who goes into the display building anyway? Oops...this year, almost everyone did.



Soaking wet, these elementary students had the best time of their lives.

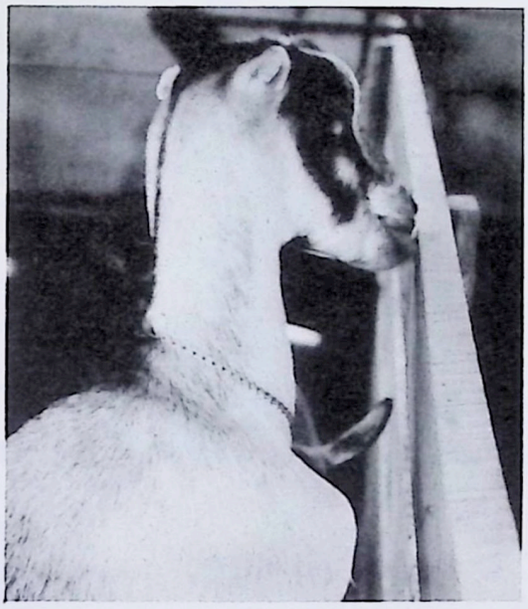


Everyone enjoys a good ride. After all, isn't that main reason we came to the fair?



The Three Little Pigs are sound asleep as people look over them. What ever happened to the Big Bad Wolf?

Ain't I adorable? I just love to sit here posing for these people.



Have you ever seen a goat look this hungry? This goat sure did, it would eat anything, even wood.

This pumpkin is an awesome in sight. Is it Cinderella's pumpkin?

Homecoming

Our Homecoming Week '94, which lasted from September 26 through 30, was one of the most treasured memories of the whole school year. Kids were filled to dressing up in different fashions all week. Monday was Hippie Day, Tuesday was Dress Up Day, Wednesday was Class Day, Thursday was Punk Day, and Friday was the day that started to light the fuse that led to Homecoming Explosion '94 by wearing orange and black. This made MSD mighty proud.

The Pep Rally on Friday night was a smashing success as the cheerleaders kept the fans on their toes. All week, the mighty Juniors had been dominating the Spirit Week Point system and sure enough, they captured first place. The Seniors pulled ahead on Friday to grab second place. The Homecoming court was announced that night. Donna Crowe, the Homecoming Queen was escorted by the Homecoming King, John Moore. They led MSD out to the bonfire afterwards, where the students showed their spirit for the next day.

The volleyball team defeated the Indiana School for the Deaf. Thanks for the help of fans, who kept shouting "Go Orioles, Go!" However, the football team lost, sadly, to Westmar High School. Of course, we still maintained our spirits after the game. What else could we do? We had to get prepared for the next game!

That night was the Homecoming Dance, was a memorable one. Students danced the night away, relieved that the hectic week was over. Homecoming was ending, and the dance was a perfect way to end it. Then everyone headed off to bed for a good night's sleep. Altogether, Homecoming proved to be successful.

During Homecoming our MSD football team played with a strong heart and a very stubborn spirit against Westmar.

Kyle and Janelle brought up the spectators' spirits during the game.

Alumni, staff, students, parents, and many other people show up to root for MSD.

The mighty volleyball players smile and scream with joy as they spike their way to win their first game of the year.

STUDENT

In the evening, elementary students like to have some activities or games to play. Here, the elementary students line up to play a game to keep themselves from being bored. They prepare for a game called "Shark", which the peer advisor arranges for them.

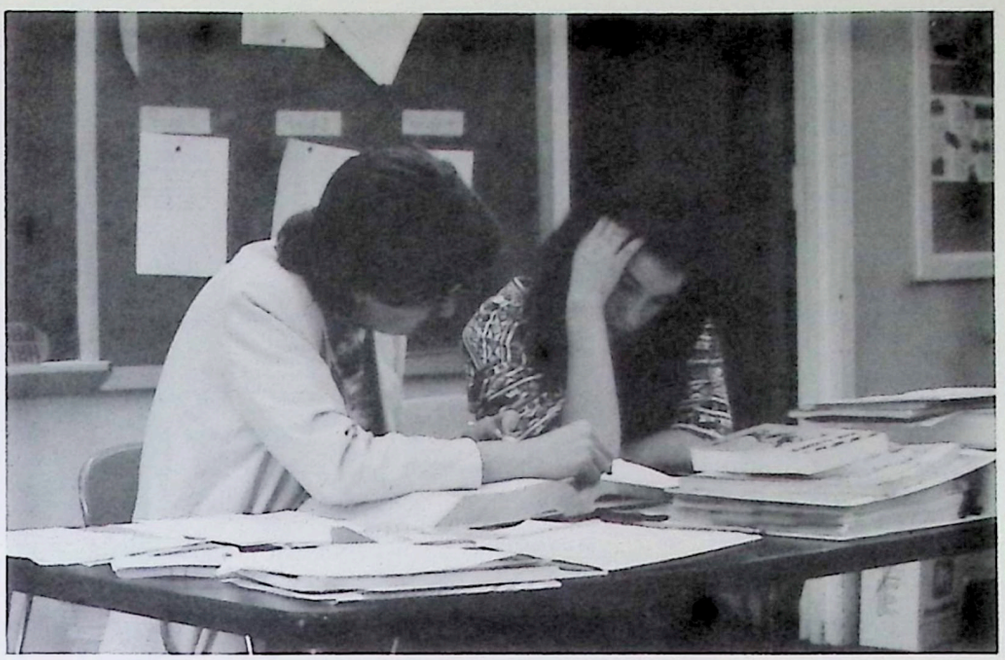
The students of MSD... It's a deaf world we live in. It's our own unique world. Some of us grew up at MSD knowing one another like brothers and sisters. Others are new, and there are always open arms welcoming them. It is not as if we are "just" students altogether, but one big family. Every student has a little bit of an "oriole" in them. The students hold the highest in pride of MSD.

The academic world is where each one of us work hard to achieve something of ourselves. In the classrooms we are being taught new things by teachers. We open our minds to new things, eager to learn. Teachers help us to understand these new things and to guide us through the academic world. Some students work so hard, that they are often exhausted from classwork, homework, and daily activities. Putting ourselves up to this challenge is what makes us good MSD students.

The high school students attended Kentucky School for the Deaf for volleyball and football games. Here, some of the high school students pose and show their Oriole Pride MSD.

School work can be tough and overwhelming when you are involved in a lot of sports and clubs. But these students try to pull it off, even though Joy Maisel, Stacy Nowak, and John Moore look as if they are about to collapse.

LIFE



Students get a lot of help from their teachers when they ask for it. Ms. Meagher helps to clarify some information regarding World Literature to Julie Bourne. Sometime things can be overwhelming, but it's ok to ask for help. Julie knows that from experience.

After school, we head straight to our extracurricular activities or practice. Each one of us has something to do to get ourselves involved with MSD and to keep ourselves entertained. After our activities or practice, there is always something else to do. It can be chatting with friends, relaxing in the dormitory, doing some homework, or attending the school events or games to support our teams in the Orioles' Spirit.

The dormitory is something that the public schools don't have since we all came from far away places; we all have a second home, which is either called the dormitory, or a residence hall. So, the reason why some students feel like a brother or sister to one another is probably because they live in the same "home". In the evenings we do our homework, chat among our friends, and sleep. Instead of having parents to watch over us, we have residence educators.

The peer advisors socialize with the elementary students and play games with them. Everyone socializes with everyone, especially the peer advisors. Peer advisors have been around for two years now.

Staff Life

Here at MSD we have a lot of overworked, underpaid, and unappreciated people working around campus. They do a great amount of things for us students, but we rarely ever thank them for their efforts. Have you ever noticed how clean and beautiful our campus is? Thank the maintenance people for keeping it that way. Did you ever realize that our halls are clean? Take a moment to thank our housekeeping staff. Do you know who watches over our campus day and day out, rain or shine? Thank the security personnel for keeping the prowlers out. Who fixes us three hot meals a day and takes the time to see that it appeals to us? We owe our dietary staff a big round of applause. Our teachers also deserve praise for putting up with us when we are rude and for trying to fill our heads with what we will need to know in the future. Our resident educators need a pat on the back for doing their best to ensure that we grow up the right way. So...when you see one of our hard-working staff members, why don't you go up to them and thank them for what they do for us. It just might make their day!

Peter Feldman, only one of our dozens of teachers, gives us a grin.

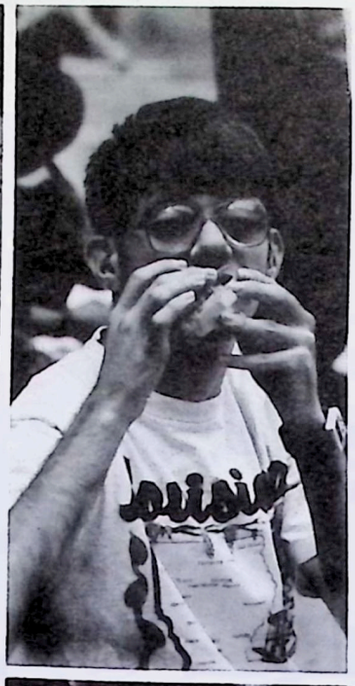
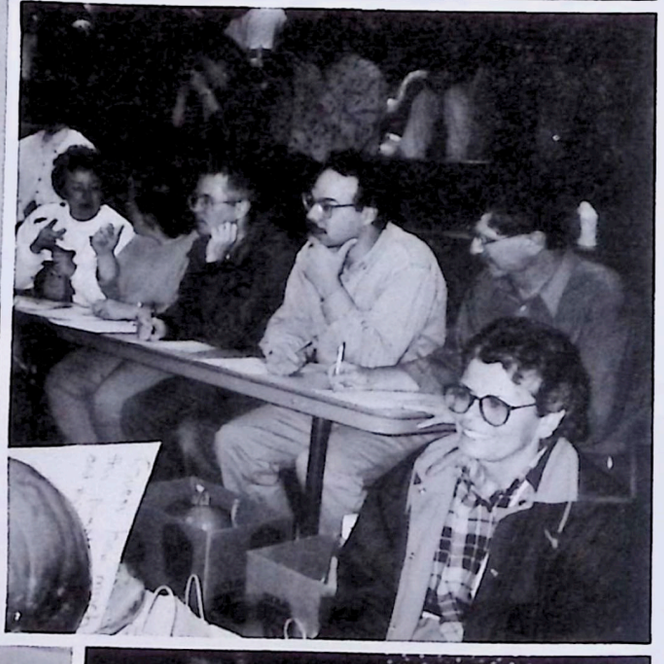
Joan Weedon strolls through the empty hallway with a vaccum to clean up the dirty floor. She does her job with pride and a smile.

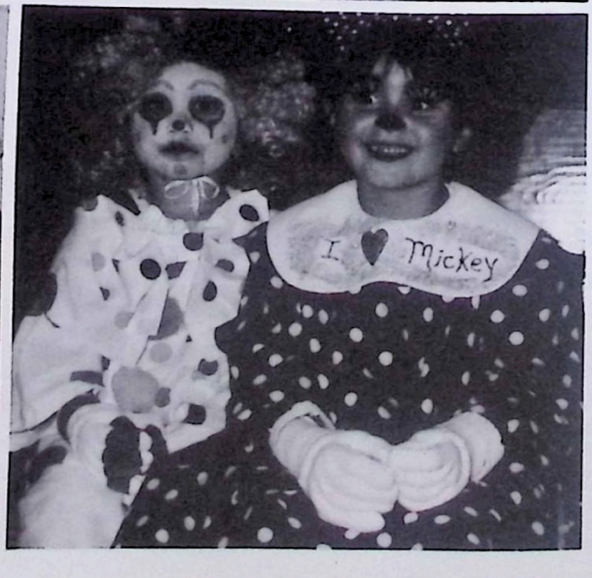
During their lunch break, Mr. Martin and Ms. Millard get together to chat about their five year old students.

Three of our cafeteria workers manage to stop serving and cooking for a few seconds to say cheese!

A Year's Worth of Memories







DEDICATION

The 1994-1995 Cornerstone is dedicated to
Mrs. Kathy Meagher

The 1995 Cornerstone is dedicated to Ms. Kathy Meagher, who has dedicated herself to MSD for the past fourteen years. In that time, she has accomplished much at our school.

Mrs. Meagher joined MSD in August of 1981 as a High School Language Arts teacher. She taught Language Arts from then until June 1989. At that time she became a supervising teacher until the Fall of 1993. To the good fortune of her pupils, Mrs. Meagher resumed full time classroom instruction.

Our Honoree has sponsored both the class of 1985 and 1989. She helped set up the Orioles' Chapter of the National Honor Society, and remained a sponsor of that organization.

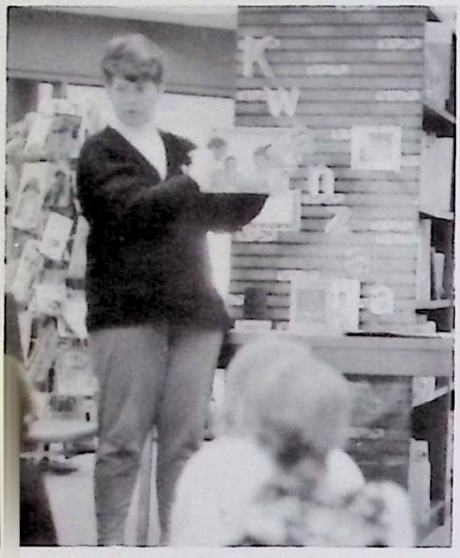
MSD is lucky to have Mrs. Meagher as a part of our family. She is gentle and kind lady who always seems to wear a smile. She is well liked by her colleagues and her students.

In short, we hope that she will remain as a teacher here for many years to come. Mrs. Kathy Meagher is a shinning example of a dedicated teacher. We see this in her accomplishments and her warm welcoming smile. The Cornerstone proudly dedicates this 1994-1995 issue to Mrs. Kathy Meagher.

Thank you, Mrs. Meagher!

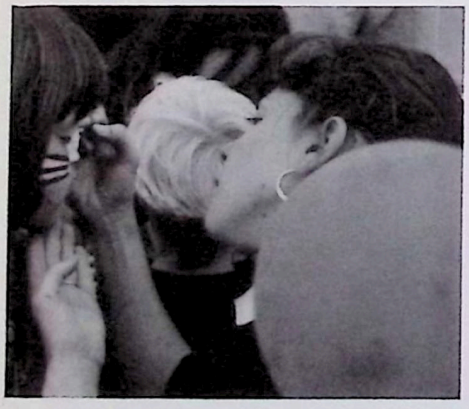


Staff Divider

A small girl runs excitedly to her father; showing an "A" on her ditto while her teacher stands proudly in the background. If it were not for those teachers, many students would not be the way we are today. To have an outstanding teacher is to have a person that possesses patience, love, respect, and enthuasism. Every MSD teacher is a shining example of an outstanding teacher. Our teachers are willing to work long hours to ensure our development in knowledge and to provide motivating, learning activities.

Like our teachers, our Residential Educators are also outstanding. Elementary REs deal lovingly with children who love to play. Sometimes Middle School REs need to give firm guidance to students. High School REs share students' problems and secrets. To sum up, all REs are here in different ways for the students.

All in all, our MSD staff is here for us, to help us and to be our friends.



Board of Trustees

There are eighteen members on the Board of Trustees for MSD.

The members of the Board have many responsibilities. For example, they have to fulfill the state and federal government requirements, policies, and establish goals for the school. They represent the school at public functions, review by-laws, evaluate the Superintendent, nominate and elect their own officers and finally, the Board of Trustees approves the school's budget every year and oversees fundraising projects.

They are very important to MSD.

June 10, 1995

Congratulations Seniors!

You have reached a milestone in American culture: High School Graduation! As you become responsible, self-reliant, and contributing members of our society, you will carry with you throughout your lives knowledge and skills you have learned at MSD.

Our world society is now at a crossroads. Maybe being "at a crossroads" is quintessentially a human experience. We are now riding on an unprecedented wave of new technology in all aspects of our lives, and at the same time struggling with centuries-old social ills. Throughout the history of our peoples, we have seen the ebb and flow of human greatness and human wickedness.

Stewards of our society will soon pass the torch to new leaders in your generation. It is our great hope that you learn from both our past successes and past failures, and guide us majestically into the 21st century.

Best wishes,

James E. Tucker

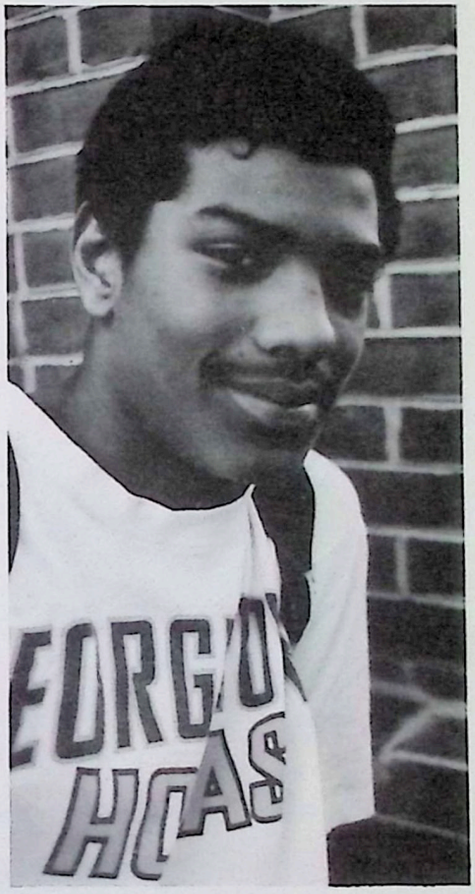
STUDENTS

Students are the main makeup of MSD. In classrooms or at sport practices and activities, students are MSD! From starters at MSD to graduates, each one of us represents MSD as a whole! Our school pictures are proof of what we stand for. Our pride is shown in these mugshots. Whether there are frowns or grins, we are proud! Students are examples of MSD pride. Year by year, each student grows and moves "into the Real World." Our student section is the main component of the yearbook. Not just any yearbook- but the Cornerstone!



CLASS OF 1995

Seniors

The years go by and the time for graduation approaches. These years of sorrow and joy seem to pass by so fast. Our experience and knowledge is handed down to Juniors to assist their duties as Seniors. Soon enough the Juniors will understand the responsibility of being a role model to all. The duty of being a Senior is a tremendous job to uphold and manage. We have succeeded in showing our best for this school and our dedication toward the organizations, sports, and other activities. When it comes to graduation, we will miss everyone and the memories that we share will always remain with us in our hearts. It's time for us to bid farewell to our teachers, staff, and friends. The time has come for us to face our future. Farewell...

Class of 1996

Juniors

This year the class of 1996 was successful with fund raising projects. The Class of '96 hosted the Valentine's Party as well as the Prom.

Our goal was to make the Prom in the Spring of 1995 the one that people would never forget. Our Prom was held at the Hampton Hotel near Rt. 270. It was an evening of fun and friendship.

There were a lot of people who helped our class. Geraldine Whitt and Janie Pearson were our sponsors.

Johnny Thuahnai, our president, was always concerned. He wanted the plans to go well. The officers who assisted him were Joy Maisel, Vice President; Erin McLaughlin, Secretary; and Tyeiesha Duffy, Treasurer. We are looking forward to graduation next year.

CLASS OF 1997

Our Sophomore year has been both memorable and successful. Much of the credit goes to our class sponsors Jeanne Meyerhoff and Eric Roberts. Jeanne and Eric did their jobs well by making the class of 1997 successful with fund raising. In order to earn more money to make the Junior/ Senior Prom the best, we hosted a Sadie Hawkins dance and sold pop tarts. During the homecoming game, we sold hamburgers.

Spirit week was a blast with the Sophomores ending up in third place. Next year's spirit week will be even better! We all look forward to next year with challenges and more successes. We believe we'll definitely have success with the Prom, and a lot of other things. Now, we are looking forward to our graduating day!

CLASS OF 1998

The Freshmen are the youngest group in High School. They succeeded even though they may face many obstacles. This year the Freshmen are very involved with after-school activities and sports such as wrestling, basketball, and football. They are also very well acquainted with the social life. They socialized during meals, sport events, and in the dorm. School taught them to be more efficient, which is good. We hope they had a great year in High School as Freshmen and in the years to come. They better start thinking about their future now!

MIDDLE SCHOOL

The Middle School consists of grades six, seven, and eight. Students are place in grades according to age. Within their age class placement, they are grouped according to their reading ability which is also grouped according to the Honors, Merit, and Directed goals/objectives listed in the curriculum. The curriculum includes emphasis on basic skills in language arts, mathematics, social studies, and science. Exploratory experience in various areas, including fine arts, careers, physical education, home economics, technology education, wood shop and health are also offered.

Outdoor school programs for sixth and eighth graders are part of the science curriculum. Sixth graders spend three days at Camp Greentop, located in Catoctin Mountain Park near Thurmont. Eighth graders studets spend three days at Camp Round Meadow, also located in the Catoctin Mountains. Their program incudes activities that relate to the study of earth sciences and social studies. The other activities are: D.A.R.E., Holiday Play, Pee Wee NAD, Jr. SBG, Teenage Club, Ski Club, Young Astronaunts , Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Intramural Sports.

Elementary School

Our elementary students are the future of MSD. They are young and full of energy, they roam our campus, with a thirst for knowledge. They often pass by in lines with their bright dresses and cute jeans, with innocent and naive faces, often brightening up a deary day with their huge smiles. The children are often in awe of the older students, but they are secure in their little world with nothing to worry about. Their intelligence will bring MSD many leaders when they enter High School.

They sit at their desks learning how to spell, add and subtract. Giggling when the teachers look at the blackboard, they pinch and tickle each other. Drama brings a completely new world to them, as they step out of their personalities and become new people. When people come to watch them peform, they are filled with the pride. Gym is always fun, as they learn how to play different sports and vow to play basketball, wrestle or be the quarterback for the High School teams when they grow up. After school, they play outside on the playground, watch videos or go to the mall. Everywhere they go, they learn new things... ....Before we know it, they'll be all grown up and ready to leave their safe little cocoon.

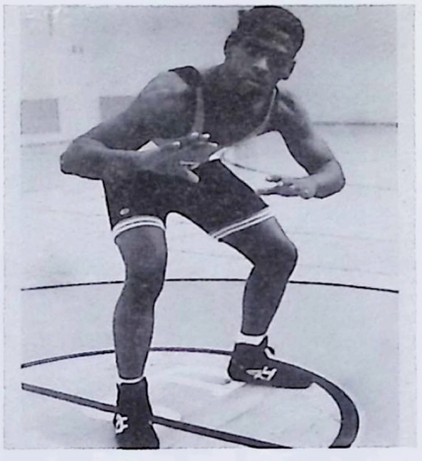
Sports Divider

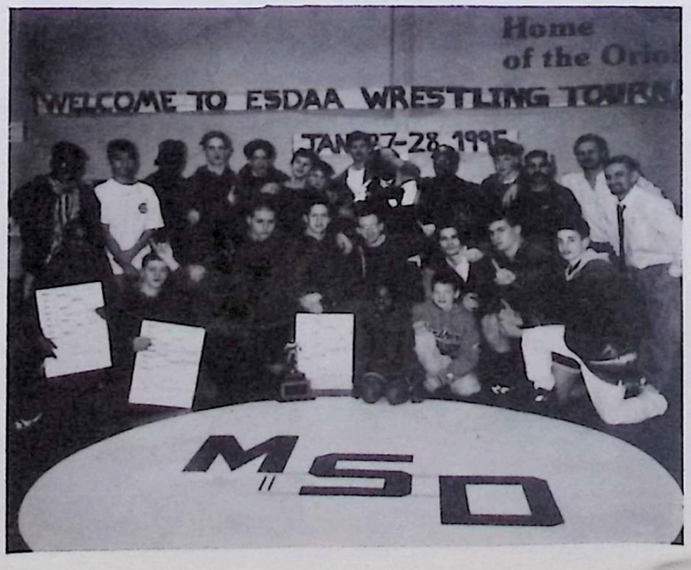
School is not the only place students work hard and achieve their goals. The students participate in many different sports such as volleyball, basketball, track, and football to name only a few. They help their teams to become stronger and more challenging. MSD has received a lot of recognition through our activities.

MSD students learn many things while playing sports. The students keep themselves busy and stay in shape by spiking volleyballs or scaring basketballs. Tough practices and discipline teach players sportsmanship and determination regardless of the MSD uniform they wear.

Students achieve success through patience and spirit. Patience is learned when players break bones, receive scratches, bruises, and still continue to play. Cheerleaders, in charge of the spirit department, always rally players at critical moments during a game.

To sum up, students learn many life skills in addition to their athletic recognition.





Football

Without several key players from last year, the MSD football team still had a winning seaon. A few veterans and a lot of young players worked together to make the team one of the best deaf football teams in the United States.

We had a record of 5 wins and 4 loses. After we beat Kentucky School for the Deaf, we gained confidence. Victor Cullen High School was the strongest team that we played against. We lost 40-19 but our best game was against the Eastern North Carolina School for the Deaf. We won 38-0. It was the first time in 7 years that we beat them!

Coleman, Ass't Coach R. Murray, Ass't Coach Conrad vonGarrell, Ass't Coach D. Millsaps, Ass't Coach Chris vonGarrell, Trainer B. Dye

Wrestling

The MSD wrestling team got off with a great start! We tied Walkersville High School for the first time since 1989. Our goal was to continue a winning season. Our Coaches, Jeffrey White and Chris vonGarrel, both of whom were Olympic wrestlers, have taught us a great deal. We were taught to maintain discipline on and off the team.

BOYS BASKETBALL

This year, our basketball team began with a bad start, at 0-6, under the new coach, Roscoe Murray. All the players in the Varsity team are young players. There are five juniors and five sophomores. Only two players who returned from last year are Darrius Brown and Tyese Gaither. "This year, we're a bunch of young players, I think that we'll be better team next year 1995," Darrius Brown said. Roscoe Murray agreed too. The basketball team feel that they can win ESDAA Championship, and become the best team.

GIRLS VARSITY BASKETBALL

With a new coach, Conrad vonGarrel, the "Fab Five" are back for another incredible season. The Girls Basketball team went all the way, surprising everyone with a 4-1 record before Christmas Break. Four juniors, three sophomores and three eighth graders made up the extremely young team, but their love for the fame kept them together.. The team was blessed with everything it could ask for. They had speed, size, brains, power, and experience.

Their schedule was tough as they challenged several of the top teams around. With everything going for them, the MSD Lady Orioles have exploded for another great season.

GIRLS' VARSITY VOLLEYBALL

The MSD Varsity Volleyball team entered it's fifth season with a new addition of a JV Volleyball team. The Varsity team had only seven Juniors and two Sophomores.

During the season, we were involved in 29 matches, and three tournaments: the MSSD Invitational, the Tri-State tournament, and the ESDAA tournament , at NYSD in which we placed third.

Two highlights of the season were: the trip to the Blue Grass state, Kentucky! We played KSD for the first time. The other trip was to the Ellis Island and Statue of Liberty after the ESDAA Tournament in New York.

We look forward to another "CHALLENGING SEASON".

BASKETBALL CHEERLEADING

There are many different kinds of sports. Some sports require endurance. Cheerleading requires a crowd and full commitment from its members along with many other things.

Cheerleaders deserve a lot of respect for the many hours of practice that they put in after school. As everyone knows, their main job is to boost the morale of the crowd. (Although its not hard to do it at MSD.)

Bottom: Julie Bourne, Joy Maisel Top: Kimberly Jones, Coach Peggy St. Johns, Coach Joann Virgadaula

Boys' Track and Field

The Orioles are excited about their track and field team.

We have many returning veterans as well as new and young stars. Our coach, Charlie Day, continues to be patient with us while we work hard to attain the ESDAA championship once again.

The Oriolettes were excited about competing against other schools.

Our goal is to win the Eastern Schools for the Deaf Athlete Association Championship for the 12th consecutive year. As we have in the past, we have talented players.We have patience and as long as we practice hard, we may have a chance of tasting victory.

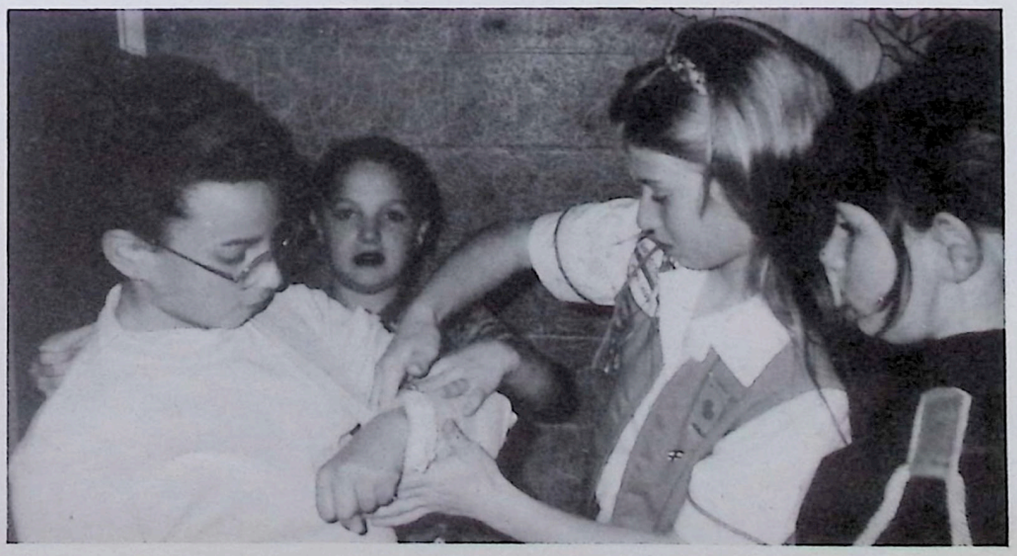
MSD has a variety of organizations for students to join. Through them the students become a part of MSD. By joining organizations, everyone develops pride in our school. Many students are involved in a variety of organizations. Everyday, students rush to at least one organization or activity, carrying high motivation with them. Whether it's after school or in the evenings, you'll see plenty of faces at any organizational meeting or activity. Within this section are the various student organizations showing and expressing themselves through their interests, and students making organizations worthwhile. And these organizations show what a GREAT school we have!



GIRL SCOUTS

The Girl Scouts began their year planning for many activities. This organization has many girls wearing green in honor of being a Girl Scout like Scouts everywhere. They are working on selling Girl Scout Cookies, which help to provide the funds for many activities.

BROWNIES

Games; crafts, T-shirts painting, ceremonies, camping, swimming, try-its, food and fun! This has been a busy and rewarding year for MSD's eleven girl Scout Brownies.

Brownies are part of the world wide organization called the World Association of Girl Guides and Girl Scouts (WAGGS) whose purpose is to give young girls the opportunity to do all of the above mentioned activities and more!

We touched on many areas and ideas this year and we are looking forward to more fun, adventure and challenge in Girl Scout Brownies next year!

STUDENT BODY GOVERNMENT

The Presidential Debate between Donna Crowe and Julie Bourne was exciting. Julie Bourne won as President for SBG. The Cabinet was complete with Joy Maisel as Vice President, Stacy Nowak as Secretary, Stephen Semler as Treasurer, Tiffany Zink as Secretary of Academic Affairs and Student Welfare, and Ryan Palmer as Secretary of Extra Curricular Activities.

We provided a very successful Halloween party. We changed the number of Representatives from 15 to a ratio in the constitution. We made several proposals such as putting Maryland School for the Deaf signs on highways 270 and 70. We are working on making the dorms more comfortable for the students.

Jr. NAD

This year our membership has expanded to approximately 25 members. Belinda Monigan is our sponsor.

During the year, we decided plans for the following year which will include hosting a few parties to raise money. We also decided to become more involved in regional conference.

COLUMBIA CAMPUS INTRAMURALS

Intramural activities on the Columbia Campus are divided into three seven week sessions.

This year activities included various ball skill games, exercise and fitness and swimming.

All dorm students participate in intramurals along with any interested day students. Residential educators, teachers, and volunteers work together to provide the help and guidance that our students need to be successful.

Perfection is not the primary goal of intramurals, but rather learning, cooperating, and most of all, to have fun.

A group of young students participate in an intramural activity.

YEARBOOK

Working on the yearbook isn't always so easy like everybody thinks it is. It's a lot of hard work, time, and effort. When the last spread is finally finished there's a feeling of relief and pride. Yearbook gives you the chance to meet new people. You learn a lot about photography and layout patterns. This year, the yearbook staff, the English Honor classes, the print class, and the computer class were involved in the production of the yearbook.
